

ENGLISH LETTORATO AT DISPES TS

Lettorato courses are all about exploring and using the foreign language.

English Lettorato provides students with guidance aimed at enhancing fluency, comprehension, and self-confidence in the language. Vocabulary is expanded, pronunciation is refined, and overall communication skills are improved. It is through regular, interpersonal practice and individual feedback that learners make progress and succeed in using a foreign language skillfully. English Lettorato courses go hand in hand with and beyond the many digital resources available to provide students with a comprehensive language-learning experience. There are many good reasons to improve one's communication skills in English. Join the Lettorato course to help improve yours.

English Lettorato course schedule:

Lettorato for first-year students (starting March 8th):

Fridays, 1-3pm, Room 425 (building A, 4th floor)

Lettorato for Political and Social Science – for second-year students (starting February 26th):

Mondays, 11am-1pm, Room 425 (building A, 4th floor)

Fridays, 9-11am, Room 425 (building A, 4th floor)

Lettorato for Business - for third-year students (starting February 27th):

Tuesdays, 10am-12pm, Room 425 (building A, 4th floor)

Thursdays, 11am-1pm, Room 425 (building A, 4th floor)

Students joining any of the above Lettorato courses will have access to a course Moodle page where resources, feedback, and updated course information will be provided on a weekly basis.